

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? The best way to travel is in a group led by a tour guide. Use specific reasons and examples to support your answer.

Since the beginning of the time, traveling has played a profound role in civilized societies and has altered the future of them. The majority of people strongly hold the view that nowadays traveling in a group led by a tour guide is much easier. On the other hand, there are ~~those some people~~ who ~~believe in solitary travel. contradict this idea and take an opposite view point.~~ By and large, I personally agree with the former concept and my reasons are given below.

First of all, from my own perspective, one of the most striking reasons is that traveling is a the matter of learning new things and getting to know ~~with~~ new people while traveling alone wouldn't give you much ~~of this opportunity these opportunities~~ because when you are traveling ~~in by~~ a group you, would open the door to so many new people that have stories to be heard and skills to be learned. The more you ~~are would be~~ with the group, the more you ~~would~~ become a sociable person. We have a religious thought that if you want to know a person, ~~you had better let's~~ travel with ~~them~~(her or him). Because in traveling we could see ~~the~~ other sides of people and the positive points for ourselves is that we could be aware of our habits and maybe ~~the bad ones habits~~ and try to ~~quit~~/break them and start the better ones.

Secondly, another outstanding reason to take into account is that without traveling in a group led by a tour guide, there would be no more description for new places and also there would be so ~~many pristine /~~new places that are waiting for you to ~~be~~ discovered ~~ed them~~ and it would ~~be~~ caused a big regret for you after your trip. Recently, I traveled to ~~the~~ south of my country with my family and without a tour. When we arrived there, we had no idea about that town's new places, ~~and~~ we just asked ~~the~~ local people ~~of that city~~ about ~~the attractive astonishing~~ places and we ~~tried try~~ to visit them after all. Of course those places were a lot more adorable and amazing, but we didn't have any tour guide to explain ~~us about~~ those places and the history behind them ~~to us which and it~~ made us confused with a lot of regrets.

In a nutshell, according to all the aforementioned reasons, it can be concluded that the best way to travel is in a group led by a tour guide, from becoming a more sociable person to becoming a ~~person with much awareness more awareness person.~~
