

Some people think that government should pay extra money for art pieces like sculpture and put them in outdoor places. Do you agree or disagree?

Supporting art and artists, is one of the most important government ~~al's~~ issues. There is arguing that authorities should pay more attention to these aspects of culture ~~with by~~ economic incentives encouraging and exhibit them ~~to the on the view of~~ public. I personally believe that any efforts for the purpose of in the order of reminding people of their traditional or cultural values by popularizing statues or any other typical sign is ~~appreciable~~ appreciated.

From earlier times, sculptures have ~~meant had been many means a lot~~ for humankind, ranging from religion, history, tradition ~~and so forth~~, to national symbols. ~~Nevertheless Despite~~, occasionally they had been destroyed in wars or earthquakes, but still we can study and gain a wide range of knowledge about past civilizations. However, we should protect ~~remains remainder~~ for the next nest generations, furthermore improve this art through ~~the~~ society. This responsibility ~~cannot can not~~ be
