As of industrial revolution the humanity's society has changed and progressed significantly. Nowadays, automobiles and robots have become our ordinary machines and we have improved our life condition better with the aid ~~aim~~ of these technologies. It is ~~a~~ common knowledge that invention of automobile has its own pluses and minuses, but it does not mean that involve its advantages pale into insignificance.

First and foremost, who can deny the noticeable effect of automobiles in faster commutingcommunication? Furthermore, it is not too distant future that new generations of cars can do some unbelievable assignments like flying and take the place of most of the aircrafts. Take travelling before the invention of cars as an example. It took ~~takes~~ a number of days to ~~for~~ shuttling between two cities, not to mention the fact that there were various menaces like animal attacks ~~assailing of animals~~ and thefts.

Secondly, I maintain that automobiles make the world smaller and interaction has boosted significantly. Therefore, diverse characteristics of different provinces in a country and even nations have become closer and more similar. In other words, not only can people promote ~~transmit~~ their culture, folklore and rituals, but also authorities and statesmen can have more reciprocal relationships and even become political alliances and help each other more than before.

Last but not least, though the automobile has improved the quality of our life, it has some disadvantages like environmental pollution and inspiring people to have a sedentary lifestyle. I believe that we ourselves can suppress these side effects. Using automobiles excessively, individuals are prone to some diseases such as obesity and heart attack. Thereby, we should strike a balance between usage of private transportation and other transportation vehicles like buses and bicycles or ~~and~~ even hiking.

To put it in a nutshell, I will vote in favor of the pivotal role of automobiles in peoples' life, since it makes communication more expeditiously than before. Moreover, cross-cultural exchanges ~~has~~ have increased. It is worth bearing in mind that one of the important factors of using cars is that we should not employ it extravagantly.
