

Popular events like the football World Cup and other international sporting occasions are essential in easing international tensions and releasing patriotic emotions in a safe way.

To what extent do you agree or disagree with this opinion?

As a matter of fact wars and tensions between nations are shaping history. The ~~root~~, however ~~lies~~ ~~lays~~ in human's demand for power, coming to it or being under its umbrella. Since last century, attempts have been made in order to decrease tensions between nations especially after the II World War. Some believe that international occasions such as Olympics ~~assist in paving assets to pave~~ the way for addressing some sorts of conflicts, ~~but~~ others, myself included believe that they are just separate phenomena. ~~Although~~ ~~although~~ politics can influence other sections, it is a one-way road.

Sport competitions philosophy ~~is based~~ ~~bases~~ on ~~raising~~ ~~arising~~ morality and exercising them to be moral in serious situations, which is a delightful sign to remind us ~~of~~ humanity. But in this era when every ~~subtle~~ owns its branches everything becomes so self-centered. As an example, ~~winning~~ world football ~~cup~~ ~~cap~~ itself is a serious target whatever the philosophy of the competition is supposed to be. It brings power, wealth, fame, enough targets for any subject to concentrate on. It could be said that politics influences other areas in that every activity between nations is political, that is to say politics is ~~the~~ ~~a~~ mother of games.

On the other hand, it is true that ~~in~~ ~~on~~ some occasions nation's reactions show that respect to human values is still alive. For instance, boycotting the 1988 Olympic in Russia from ~~a~~ ~~numbers~~ of countries because of not inviting Afghanistan, but ~~not~~ this ~~is not~~ happening nor other ~~this~~ kinds reactions does not solve conflicts or even influencing them. Competing during a game with specific rules, athletes free from their nationality and identity not only is not because of morality which for sure there is no touchstone for measuring it, but also because it is a different game with its own regulations.

All in all, I think that worldwide sport events have not been influencing nations' problem solving, they are just beautiful mottos decorated by ~~humanity importance issue~~.
