

In your opinion, what is the most important characteristic for example honesty, intelligence, a sense of human that a person can have to be successful in life?

As the property of a person in life is not limited to honesty, intelligence, a sense of humanity, there are many factors such as risk and diligence(perseverance) important to be successful in life. I think the most important one is to have intelligence. An intelligent person is creative, has a high level of self-knowledge and can get quickly ly make intelligent decisions.

An Intelligent person has new ideas, thinks thoughts in any condition and to appliesy innovative methods for doing everything, looking at every issue from different aspects and being able to see distant horizons for any topic that the most of people can't do it. They can understand the motives, radical and inflexible thoughts of others immediately, in contrast, in-against-of that an intelligent person is always propounding new ideas.

Humans learns all things in their life by trial and error from the first to the last step in their life but an intelligent person learns from their experience and these are aware of all aspects of their existence, to know about their strength, weaknesses in their character and also well-known values. These have the ability to exploit weak points in useful ways.

I think this group of people can make get correct and intelligent decisions and make the most of obtain the best use of opportunities. And learn -Learning tricks, life skills very quickly. Their decisions are often profitable, these lead to havinge a high quality of life.
