

Some people argue that it is more important to have an enjoyable job than to earn a lot of money. Others disagree and think that a good salary leads to a better life.

Discuss both these views and give your own opinion.

There ~~has always been controversy~~ ~~were always arguments~~ about ~~/concerning~~ effective parameters ~~in on~~ job satisfaction between employees and employers, and this challenge will never ends ~~between among~~ them.

Some say the most important reason of ~~/for~~ working is to make ~~ing~~ money. Therefore, the more you gain, the more successful you are. They believe if you receive less money in one job, then you must change it and try to get ~~your~~ foot on ~~the~~ prosperity ladder. They assert that the more money you earn, the more relax ~~ed~~ and happier you are, whereas making less money in your career leads you to enormous personal and social difficulties.

Opponents, on the other hand, ~~point out bring forward~~ problems which you might encounter in some occupations, especially those which seem charming from others' ~~point of view~~, such as high levels of stress and losing much more of your leisure time. They think if anybody like ~~s~~ their job they will spend more time ~~on for~~ it with satisfaction and this will result in remarkable achievements for them. Besides, it is recommended by professionals that everybody ~~should~~ start their work according to their fields of interest, because in other conditions ~~by far it seems far-fetched-will~~ they ~~will~~ succeed in their occupation.

From my point of view, it will be better for every employee to ~~do make~~ their effort with enthusiasm. Therefore, it reveals levels of intelligence of workers who select their job by their ~~affection interest~~ and subsequently continue it ~~with/in all by~~ seriousness and pleasure. Although it is proposed ~~that we to~~ do any activity with desire, this concern might be important to the extents ~~s~~ that ~~magnates job-lords~~ do not exploit labor. In such conditions workingmen should try to present their objection but not to decrease their enthusiastic feelings toward their business.

In a nutshell, although making ~~noticeable handsome~~ money every month as a wage is important, especially for those who are in charge of a family, selecting and ~~persevering hanging on in~~ a likeable career is more acceptable.