

Some people think that a sense of competition in children should be encouraged. Others believe that children who are taught to co-operate rather than compete become more useful adults.

Discuss both these views and give your own opinion.

Nowadays, ~~a the~~ purpose of teaching has changed compared to the past. People ~~used to~~ believed that it is better to encourage children to competitive activity, ~~formerly~~ and there were ~~less fewer~~ people who think that children need to learn to be a cooperative person. These two ideas have some advantages and disadvantages that finally lead children into cooperation more than competition.

To begin with, ~~a the~~ sense of competition in a positive way ~~has have~~ certain privileges. For instance, children through ~~the~~ competition learn to be creative, ~~they become~~ open-minded and they may have better future opportunities. Also, it causes ~~an~~ excitement and zeal in learning besides they compete to receive high marks because it helps them to be accepted in ~~high-ranking ranked~~ universities and finally they can get an apt job. Moreover, what leads to them becoming ~~an~~ independent ~~individuals one~~ and ~~being able to could~~ rely on themselves in every aspects of life is competition.

Furthermore, in some situations, competition is completely meaningful like in sports ~~where which~~ it should be determined ~~that~~ who wins and who loses. However, it has many disadvantages likewise. For example, it might cause pupils to become ~~de-demotivated~~ if ~~they lose losing~~ despite ~~of their~~ persistent efforts. In addition, some of them choose alternative ways to win like cheating.

On the other hand, cooperation is mandatory to be encouraged because it has ~~a~~ multitude ~~of~~ advantages. First and foremost, it helps children to learn from each other and teaches them the skills linked to sharing. In this manner undoubtedly they become a kind member of society and eventually it is the best way to prevent ~~from~~ mere individuality. Pupils who ~~are accustomed~~ to participat~~ing~~ in team work learn worthy attributes like respect as well as tolerance and they know how much ~~it~~ is lucrative to exchange ~~of~~ help. Having a sense of cooperation is not only admirable, but also it is ~~a the~~ key component for ~~a~~ better personality.

To sum up, cooperation should be encouraged more than competition for children because in today's modern world people have figured out ~~that to~~ work~~ing~~ together will ~~produce better results have prime-consequences~~ and in my opinion we will ~~earn/gain~~ ~~a~~ win-win situation when we collaborate.
