

Some people think that it is better to educate boys and girls in separate schools. Others, however, believe that boys and girls benefit more from attending mixed schools.

Discuss both these views and give your opinion.

Some countries, like mine, have only single-sex education systems, while others have ~~both either~~ single ~~and or~~ mixed schools. Some school psychologists believe that co-education systems s have advantages over the other ones s. ~~In~~ this essay ~~we~~ will be discussing positive and negative points of both systems.

~~Although However~~ it is up to the students and their parents to decide which school model is preferable, some social scientists encourage them to choose mixed schools. They believe that integrating the sexes leads to them developing many social skills from the early ages such as livinging and workinging together. If children communicate with their peers in both genders from primary schools, it will be possible to reduce gender prejudice which is vividly observed in many families. Consequently, there is a chance that men and women can resolve their conflicts in a fair way in the future.

On the other hand, we must mention some drawbacks of co-education systems. The environment of mixed schools might ~~increase/intensify reduce~~ the pupils' distractions. Boys and girls' rivalry can cause them to lose their concentration and ~~do~~ not pay enough attention in the class. Besides, it can have adverse effects on some high school students when they hit puberty. There are always teenagers who developed sexually earlier and it could be tough for them. They might feel separated and humiliated if (they were) ridiculed by their counterparts, particularly by the ones with the opposite sex.

To sum up, I prefer mixed schools to ~~segregated ones.that one~~. Not only will students learn how to associate with each other regardless of gender, it could pave the way for a society without segregation by gender. We can also devise strategies to address its problems.
