some people feel lonely living in high-rise apartment blocks, while others prefer this kind of living. Give your opinion and examples from your own experience.

Nowadays, many individuals believe that living in sky-scrapers have many benefits, while others claim that living in such places makes people more isolated, so residents are more depressed. From my perspective, in terms of life style living in apartments is more convenient for citizens.

Firstly, ~~from my point of view~~ these days the most important issue among the citizens is safety. Because of life style people spend the majority of their time out of their home, so being assured about the safety of their possession is a must and the high-rise apartments meet this request. In addition, access to amenities such as gyms, restaurants and recreational centers is much/a lot more easier when a person is living in a sky-scra~~pp~~er, so individuals are more happier when they are have both assured about the safety and entertainments access.

However, secondly, living in a flat house has its own advantages too. First of all, the relation among the neighbors is are more friendly compared with that in high-rise buildings, hence they can spend their time when they are alone or require a companion. Also, residents have more private areas such as the yard, the garden, and a pool which creates a special atmosphere to do/engage in activities such as gardening or swimming.

As a conclusion, I strongly believe that although the residents of flat houses are more happier than those that in high-rise apartments, living in sky-scra~~pp~~ers is a better choice due to life style in cities. Generally speaking the advantages of living in high rise apartments outweigh those of the benefits of living in a flat house.
