

Universities should accept equal numbers of male and female students in every subject .To what extent do you agree or disagree.

The importance of equal numbers of male and female students has become a big topic of debates these days. Many believe by providing considerable educational opportunities for men countries will have ~~made been make~~ significant progress in future. In my opinion in this rapidly changing world discrimination has no place.

Although , today the number of women who engage in educational systems has been increasing in some countries, ~~still~~ the truth is both women and men have great capability to do their best while they take part in educational activities.to my mind not only is being a qualified person not related to gender differences but rather it is ~~also~~ about reasonable levels of intelligence as well as how ~~likewise put~~ their ideas are put into practice.

Governments should pave the way for people to participate in every activity regardless of gender segregation to strike a balance in societies inasmuch as some countries are in the middle of recession and along with this crisis the pressing need for finding suitable jobs and the need to make ~~making~~ an adequate amount of money may have ~~risen been enhance~~ more and more.

In conclusion , I think universities instead of imposing restrictions should ~~have been~~ accept equal numbers of male and female students. However impossible ~~However~~ it would be ~~impossible~~ for some conventional cultures ~~but~~ it's certainly worth a try to enhance the quality of life for people.
