

SOME PEOPLE BELIEVE THAT CHILDRENS LEISURE ACTIVITIES MUST BE EDUCATIONAL, OTHERWISE THEY ARE A COMPLETE WASTE OF TIME.

Due ~~to do the~~ high speed of technological progress in our society over the last half century, there ~~are is~~ a variety of toys available to children. The matter is ~~that~~ which kinds of them ~~are is~~ appropriate to ~~these this underage under-aged~~ people. Some scientists think that children should play with some informative things and just concentrate on educational activities instead of wasting time on some other hobbies. However, some others strongly asserted that children should be free to choose their favorites.

The first group of scientists maintain ~~the belief~~ that by allocating our babies time to raise their information about some fundamental facts of life and ~~teach learn~~ them ~~to~~ keep their time table, they become more independent. In this way we can recognize their talents better and trigger their sense of creativity. This leads them to be more successful. The second group of scientists say that if we persuade our sons and girls to choose ~~a limited number of the restricted kind of~~ activities, we ~~will would~~ make their life completely monotonous.

I personally share the same view with the second idea that insists on paying attention to our offspring's ~~s~~ needs/demands/requests appeals, and the more focusing on educati education ng, the more isolated the generation. Although some researchers assume that some other kinds of activities which ~~are not does-not~~ considered scientific are detrimental, most of them are definitely effective ~~for to~~ this under aged generation.

On the whole, not only should we be careful about children's preferences but also we can help them to manage their time and avoid wasting it.
