Nowadays many countries are facing the problem of heavy traffic and congestion.
Describe the situation in your home country and suggest some solutions.

Being stuck ~~Sticking(Stuck)~~ in bumper to bumper traffic is one of the most irritating issues in many countries and my country is not an exception. There are numerous underlying causes which lead to heavy traffic in cities some of which as well as some practical solutions will be discussed here.

From my point of view, the first and foremost reason leading to congested traffic is the lack of public transportation facilities. For instance, not only does Iran suffer from the severe shortage of adequate subway'~~s~~ stations, but also both trains and stations'~~s~~ quality~~ies~~y are not acceptable, so citizens are not eager to use public transportation as an alternative choice of their own cars/private transport. Consequently, driving ~~the~~ private cars is quite common, although most individuals are aware of the adverse effects of this trend on crowded streets.~~transportation~~. Last but not least, unfettered production of cars regardless of the roads and highways'~~s~~ capacity lead~~s~~ to terrible traffic.

In spite of the aforementioned reasons, undoubtedly some effective prompt measures can be taken to settle this issue. From my perspective, using ~~the~~ public transportation means plays a vital role in reducing the traffic congestion, so governments should shoulder the responsibility to encourage citizens to use more public vehicles instead of their own (????) by both enhancing the quality and increasing the quantity of public vehicles. Furthermore, it is incumbent upon legislators to introduce and implement stringent laws which can limit ~~the~~ car manufacture as long as the essential infrastructures for driving new cars, namely roads and highways, is not developed.

In conclusion, my personal conviction is that heavy traffic is an inevitable outcome of living in modern society. however, statesmen should address this issue and take it into account as an urgent priority. They can resolve ~~decide~~ this problem by applying reasonable laws besides improving the public transportation facilities.
