

Nowadays the way many people interact with each other has changed because of technology.

In what ways has technology affected the types of relationships people make?

Has this become a positive or negative development?

Nowadays the types/nature of people's relationships has have changed because of technology and I think people have gone through a way that their relations or interactions are being affected which is and- it-was not acceptable.

For expanding technology, two issues have been produced, one of them emphasizes the relations between extended friends or families and the other is related to close families. In the first opinion, technology has reasonable functions and also plays a role in relating, because it enables us and our friends to become closer. Although we are not interacting with each other in person from short distance, we could get in touch with each other by new devices. Besides, it brings about changes in our life and also there is some doubt as to whether this approach/ kind of technology will work.

Moreover, new technology has caused the family to act like strangers with each other. For examples, we are being out during the day, when we arrived home, we use our devices (cellphones or laptops) without looking around. Mothers are being alone during the day, waiting for us to arrive home so that and she could speak about something that was happened today, but unfortunately we do not allow her to speak while we are I-am speaking or chatting with our my friends who were our my classmates ten years ago. Thus, we can conclude that not only have devices not helped us to get close to each other, but also they have made it makes us get far from each other. On the other hand, it is against rules of our society that I was raised in.

Ultimately, the new devices have facilitated our lives. making life easier, devices act. We should learn how to use each new technology that does not hurt / without causing for any body and it needs cultural work. We must use modern equipment, by which we can improve our lifestyle. Not only does it make life simple/ straightway, but it also provides in a high quality. Despite disadvantages/negative points, the benefits are is legion.
