

Some people believe that children should not be given homework every day, while others believe that they must get homework every day in order to be successful at school. Discuss both sides and give your own opinion.

Throughout school years teachers give students assignments to ensure that their pupils learned what they have taught. Some people argue that learning is related to school time and should be left at school, whereas others opine that there are many a point in doing homework.

To begin with, children must spend seven hours at school in a regular day and arrived at home mentally and physically exhausted. In many views s if school is not able to teach them in seven fresh hours of day the other hours of study would be futile. Hence, school should rework on the method of teaching. In addition, children should develop their social life in parallel with their educational life. Above all, the kid needs to refresh the mind and body as well as adults who need to relax after work place.

On the other hand, doing assignments will improve the child's merits. A clear example is, when a child is obliged to do ing homework in a given time, the child he will develop a sense of responsibility plus punctuality from the early ages s. Furthermore, parents can easily get involved d in their child's s educational life. Not only would this help parents in knowing their child's educational status, but also would illustrate their child's weak spot/weaknesses points in order to assist them in approach ing the problem.

By way of conclusion, there are strong arguments s on both sides of the debate. I am of the opinion that homework helps s children master several skills that they need for success in life. However, teachers should ensure that they are not burdening students with excessive work.