

Some people think that universities should provide graduates with the knowledge and skills needed in the workplace. Others think that the true function of a university should be to give access to knowledge for its own sake, regardless of whether the course is useful to an employer.

What, in your opinion, should be the main function of a university?

Education is more important in the modern era than it was before, and universities play vital role ~~rule~~ in people's future. It is a general belief that universities prepare students for their career despite the fact that of it some people argue that the main attention of ~~if the~~ university should be focused on improving their knowledge.

There is no doubt, People are living in a competitive, developed world. People mostly go to universities because not only do they want to find a decent job in future but also they want to ensure their financial success.

These days all different companies are looking for talented people who are ~~has~~ well equipped with all necessary knowledge and experiments. Not only do they want ~~to~~ their employees to do their job as the best way they can but also they want to have additional skills to different kinds of tasks. Also, people always looking for ~~a~~ well paid jobs to secure their future.

In my belief universities should hold workshops and practical programs in their programs. Because the more practical students are, the more job opportunities are provided d for them. For example those students who go to the nursing school have a goal to become a successful one, they have to learn how to use their knowledge in their practical ways - and it is feasible albeit with hard working. So if universities only focused ~~d~~ on improving their knowledge after graduation they will be confused and what these approaches es would bring about is a society full of unprofessional workers.

To sum up, I personally think not only should they teach them correctly but also they have to enhance their work experiments. The more educated people are the more advantageous is it for society. I think basic knowledge and skills should be granted for graduates from universities to support them in future.
