

Some people think that arts are an essential subject for children at school while others think it is a waste of time.

Discuss both sides and give your opinion.

Undoubtedly, studying arts is an essential issue for pupils, but some are opposed to this. This matter can be considered in developed countries, because people who live there need to have ~~this-them~~ (arts), whereas in developing countries ~~they~~ (ones) are not ~~as an~~ essential as a result of a variety of reasons.

At first, I opine learning arts ~~softens smoothies~~ the soul. In other words, works of art help people to enjoy their life. For this reason, we should ~~learn-teach~~ this (art) to our children from their young age. Secondly, that by educating/teaching the art to our children, we will have creative children is an unavoidable matter ~~and thiswhich~~ leads them to ~~have-be an~~ inventive and happy generation. ~~The~~ last but not least, it is incumbent on us to preserve the culture and art inherited from our ancestors and this is not possible unless we teach arts to our children. The more we rely on our ancient/old culture, the more we protect our society against social ills.

On the other hand, some believe not only is it not needed for children, but also it is waste of time and money. This belief is common especially in the less developed countries. Their nations firmly believe that in this rapidly changing world, their governments should focus on teaching science and business to their children, ~~due to because~~ both making money and getting/finding a job are their priorities. Although art is needed for everyone, it can compensate for the lack of other basic human needs. For example, preferences of people who live in poverty are money, a job and home. ~~Therefore, in that~~ they do not pay attention to other issues such as music, painting and the movie industry.

Ultimately, in spite of critiques in some countries, notably in developing countries, learning arts is indisputable. In my opinion, lowly educated people in terms of arts contribute to having inge an immoral, unfriendly society. ~~-and unfriendly-~~ In a word, the benefits of learning ~~of~~ art are legions.
