

Some people get into debt by buying things they don't need and can't afford. What are the reasons for this behavior? What action can be taken to prevent people from having this problem?

In contemporary societies, people's attitude is ~~turning~~ changing ~~(change, right?)~~ toward consumerism. This tendency to buying commodities, regardless of how necessary they are ~~whereas it is commonly includes objects that are more than need,~~ could bring about a huge debt. The following essay will discuss them and render the approaches that might ~~lead~~ lead to addressing the problem.

In the first place, there are vast numbers of reasons which are lurking behind this behavior. The First and most important factor is interfering in this phenomenon is psychological dependency. In the industrial communities there is unbreakable addictionve to aimless shopping, which not only are not required, but also has merely boasting aspect as well. It is estimated that social networks such as Instagram and Fface book play a part significant role in this emergence. Although fresh marketing will be give rise to economicy prosperity, if ~~the~~ the society is engaged with a consumer-oriented culture, it would be step away them from an active and flourishinging one.

~~Some~~ those who keep abreast of fashion (luxuries) gadgets, but cannot afford them ~~whereas they are not rich enough for buying it, they~~ take hard attempts to ~~for~~ borrow ~~or loan money~~, so ~~that~~ they will bogged down (grapple with) by gigantic payment.

To tackleing the problem, the state should propel the advertisements toward productivity, with the aim of persuading citizens to much more progress (or move forward, right?), which would convert a level off society into a thriving (flourishing) one. On the top of that, for someone purchasing product is considered as an entertainment. Meanwhile, the authorities through developing amusing and recreational spots could push residents to utilizeing these apt facilities.

All in all, it should be noticedd that raising people's awareness regarding harmful ramifications of a consumer-based society could bring about more ~~accompany~~
~~of~~cooperation them which ~~with~~ ends up with the right approach.
