

The Sample Question:

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? Sometimes it is better not to tell the truth. Use specific reasons and details to support your answer.

Maintaining healthy relations can be very difficult in today's world and there are many aspects of our interactions with others that we need to worry about. Some people think that it is possible to tell a lie because they want to protect vulnerable people's feelings, while others think it is not necessary to tell an untruth. ~~In my opinion,~~ I completely agree with the statement ~~which that not~~ telling not the truth ~~is~~ sometimes ~~is~~ necessary to take care of others's emotion. There are a couple of examples to ~~prove my point/~~show my opinion.

To begin with, not only do people tell a lie when they do not want to neglect people's kindness and thoughtfulness, but also they want to appreciate ~~d~~ their gentleness. There are lies that we tell to the people we love because we do not want to hurt their feelings which are called "white lies". When your friend ~~gave-gives~~ you a gift that you do not like very much, you should thank them ~~any way~~ for their kindness. You will try to compliment the person on how pretty the present is. Also, when your wife/~~spouse/partner~~ wants to ~~make~~ sure how beautiful she is, you will tell a lie to make her happy.

Furthermore, telling some lies can sometimes motivate people we care about. It has been stated that "it takes courage to grow up and turn out to be who you really are". Humans are very competitive and they want to be best at whatever task they are completing. The more you embolden ~~a person you are concerned about whom you concern~~, the more ~~motivated they become. they have motivated.~~ My own experience is a compelling example of this. Last summer, my little brother wanted to participate in the swimming competition. Although, he was not ready for the first place, he was eager to take a first prize. When I saw his training, I told him his work is excellent and there is nothing to worry about. After a while, he realized he could reach the highest point. Finally, ~~in-on~~ the match day, he stepped ahead of his rivals and took ~~the a~~ first place.

In conclusion, I strongly believe every person sometimes needs to tell a lie in order to protect others's feeling and create a motivational ~~ngen~~ condition for those who ~~we~~ like the most.
