

At the present time the population of some countries includes a relatively large number of young people adult compared with the number of older people

Do the advantages of this situation outweigh the disadvantages.

Nowadays the people of some countries ~~that~~ have the young people more than the old people. Some people ~~thinkg~~ that this is ~~beneficialt~~ for their countries because they have nation builders. ~~Another~~ people ~~thinks~~ that it's not ~~beneficialt due to~~since some countries limit the population, if that ~~have has~~ more young children, this essay will discuss ~~about~~ the advantages and disadvantages about in some countries have ~~the~~ young people more than old people.

Any country with ~~that youth people~~ a young population equal to that of India would be a country of power, it is a sea of potential, good quality education, basic rights and jobs can bring good economy growth also have lots of future worker. If these people ~~are~~ educated they can be ~~a~~ useful human resource and serve the country, ~~otherwise~~/if not they can turn into liability.

On the other hand, governments have to invest in ~~the~~ educational system for these youths ~~people and~~ also more schools are needed and when they have new schools ~~there will not be enough~~ teachers ~~will not enough~~ for them. in addition, more health care and more food and water ~~are is~~ needed. Young people are often more challenged to find jobs that pay well because young people have less experience than older people .furthermore, when they grow up the unemploy~~mentee~~ problem will happen because the companies ~~cannot provide vacancies. receive anybody to get job.~~

In conclusion, the government should manage ~~the~~ educational system in some countries ~~that~~ have ~~a~~ young population and they should have planning for their future job. Also ~~provides~~ a growing market for the manufactured products ~~should be provided.~~
