

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? Parents are the best teachers. Use specific reasons and examples to support your answer.

Parents are our first teacher since we open our eyes to this world. They devote a big part of their lives to teaching us how to survive in this world. There are different statements about parents as a best teacher, I believe they're the first, but it could be a bit hard to call them the best.

We learnt a lot of basic rules from them, not only life skills physical lessons such as eating and talking but also psychological-life lessons like what morality is and how to distinguish good from bad.

In my opinion, a teacher does not only mean someone who teaches something from a textbook; ~~our teachers~~ they in school and university have a big part in the level of our education knowledge and moreover our future job. There is a teacher, ~~whose vital role no one can deny which no one can deny its vital role;~~ experience. Although our parents teach us how to deal with our challenges, ~~the~~ our life experiences s teach us which way is the best for us.

Furthermore, making it difficult to understand each other, the huge ~~gap~~ generation gap between children and their parents results in ~~they~~ them do not having the same reaction in similar situations, hence the intransigent behavior of our teenagers.

In addition, parents want to see the good sides parts of their children and cannot judge them fairly, so they always give them the right but actually it is wrong. In these cases, only when ~~the~~ a third person evaluates s the situation, is it possible to teach children they're wrong.

In conclusion, we cannot contradict our parents' effect on our lives; ~~;~~ however, they're not the only teachers who ~~we~~ are need ed for continuing our journey.
