

Essay topics: Young people in the modern world seem to have more power and influence than any previous young generation.

Why is this the case?

What impact does this have on the relationship between old and young people?

I would agree that as in most countries ~~in~~ these days young people play a big role in the world. One reason is that there ~~has is~~ been a big improvement ~~un-in the~~ technology and because of that relationship and connections with other people very widespread can have real social network.

Young people can find any information that they want also they can access ~~to the~~ any book with different subjects. These days if you have ~~a~~ smart phone it's like you have a ~~world of~~ information ~~world~~ on your hand that why young people are more affected on their environment.

On the other hand, although I agree up to a point that old people tried out the world also they have ~~the~~ best teacher that was experience and they have lots of things to say but also young people can access ~~to~~ significant information due to what I said; there is a gap between ~~the~~ current generation and old people.

Sometimes young people act like they know everything and they can learn anything ~~from on~~ the internet and sometimes they think any generation before them ~~and prospect~~ are worse.

In conclusion, I think that the young live less in the moment than any generation before them; old people have to ~~train-transfer to~~ young people their experience and current generation have to respect their point of view and sometimes use it to have ~~a~~ better life and take a good decision; ~~s~~ also they will be viewed as a better leader and get better results overall.
