Some people say that the only reason for learning a foreign language is in order to work in a foreign country. Others say that these are not the only reasons someone should learn a foreign language. Discuss both these views and give your own opinion.

To make links and connections in today's world, we need to communicate. This will not emerge if we do not know our counterparts' language in different countries to talk. No matter whether they are your foreign neighbors, colleagues or travellers. The Capability of speaking in even 1-one more language may open up invisible doors of distinct opportunities.

Firstly, conducted statistics and researches have revealed that learning a second language which is mostly a foreign one, has aremarkably huge influence on mind cells and bolsters them to a great extent. Becoming bio-linguistic enhances the function of the brain. On the other hand, childhood is the best time the brain embraces new information and stabilizes, hence the importance of learning foreign languages at in that period.

Secondly, some encounter vacancies-situations in their career where/that they ought to make connection with foreigners. Although all people they who talk do not have the same language, being able to speak at least in an international one is better that than nothing. There are numerous people earning money by being talented at utilizing other languages as a translator or interpreter as well.

On one hand, the flow rate of skill workers migrating abroad is increasingly ascending and on the other hand, students are travelling to other countries for a more suitable educational environment. For both groups, knowing an international language is one of the obligatory necessities. For getting permanent residence somewhere constant accommodation, only when you will-pass the requirements, do-will-you have an international language certification.

Apart from all the mentioned, the risk of an eminent disease occurring by aging, Alzheimer disease, diminishes if the brain is involved with a second language to learn.

In a nutshell, every second that passes, the importance of learning a foreign language, not only English but also or the other commonones, seems more necessary. Indeed, it is for different purposes such as education, profession, travel and health. Lots of people, however, neglect this issue.