

Some people think that it is better to educate boys and girls in separate schools. Others, however, believe that boys and girls benefit more from attending mixed schools.

Discuss both these views and give your own opinion.

Nowadays, obsessed with the education ~~system~~method, Parents are worried about their children's future. Since their loved ones are ~~in~~at a decisive age, their journey from elementary to high school plays a remarkable role in shaping their characteristics. While some prefer the ~~distinct~~segregated education, many others vote for mixed one.

On one hand, clearly with separate schools, students will be less distracted and can focus better on their studying tasks. Especially, since youths ~~at~~in their adolescence are very vulnerable, ~~deal~~ing with the opposite gender may ~~deplete~~decrease their attention to courses. In addition, as there is lower need of experts and staff, these schools usually tend to have ~~less~~lower tuition fees, so they come with more reasonable prices for families. However, it should be noticed that isolating the children may have negative effects on their personalities, such as an unrealistic point of view.

On the other hand, in the schools having both boys and girls together, they can experience a semi-social life, confronting everyday challenges. They will learn how to communicate better with each other. Particularly in third world countries, a combined education system lets them know about each other characters and in long term, it will increase ~~the~~ public awareness, so they can make better relationships and work together as a team.

All in All, although the latter education system ~~have~~has a few disadvantages such as expensive costs, and the danger of falling in with the wrong crowds for children, its merits can raise better humans, decrease ~~the~~ sexism and also ~~the~~ racism and help ~~the~~ society to move on from /surmount/overcome its obstacles.
