

Some people believe that trade and cultural relationships between the countries ~~is~~are a positive development, while others disagree. Discuss both the views and include your own opinion.

The merits and demerits of doing business besides cultural activities with foreign countries ~~is~~are the subject of a hot debate amongst people from all walks of life ~~in~~ these days. Yet, there remains some disagreement as to whether the overall effects of ~~this~~ these exchanges have been positive or negative. While there are certainly valid arguments to the contrary, I personally, argue that the benefits of foreign commerce and cultural relation with other countries far outweigh their drawbacks.

~~The~~ First and perhaps ~~the~~ most important aspect of foreign trade is the substantial profit to both parties involved in the business. In most cases the country of origin can sell its products or services ~~with in on~~ larger scales of quantity with higher prices comparing to their homeland. Bananas ~~is~~are ~~is~~ a case in point which ~~is~~are much more expensive in Russia than ~~in~~ tropical countries. This kind of commerce can widely ~~financially~~ benefit a large group of people financially if managed carefully/judiciously. Cultural relations ~~s~~ between nations arguably enrich societies in a variety of aspects of our lives. People can learn from each other in different fields such as music, painting, spirituality and ideology in general. Mindfulness is the eastern spiritual meditation mixed with western psychology which is a primary example to fortify this assertion.

On the other hand, those who are against ~~the~~ trade and cultural relation with foreigners reason that not only do ~~not~~ these activities ~~not do~~ have positive impacts on societies, but also they adversely affect ~~e~~ the countries. Rich in minerals, countries with invaluable resources of crude oil, platinum and diamond are used to selling what they have and consume the ~~revenues outcome of selling~~. It goes without saying that this kind of revenue/income is not a permanent one, and sooner or later those countries will ~~fall get~~ into trouble. This group also claim that powerful nations can speed up the rate of dying out ~~of~~ weaker cultures ~~s~~ if they communicate with ~~the~~ people from developing countries. Individuals from weaker countries may try to do what people did in developed ones, and this leads to an unintentional ~~die out~~ extinction of the weaker culture.

Having close relation with other people across the globe in both commercial and cultural aspects ~~have~~has many benefits if officials and highly effective people can manage it. That an isolated country cannot pave the way for a modern society is an undeniable fact. Many like me hope to create a world without boundaries where everyone is free to trade and have cultural relation with anyone whom ~~they~~ wishes wherever ~~they~~he wants.
