Television is dangerous because it destroys family life and any sense of community; instead of visiting people or talking with our family, we just watch television. What is your opinion?

One of the common devices that most of households provide is television set, but it diminish interfamilial relationships and family members hook on it for watching some programs. I strongly believe that television viewing adversely effects on family interaction.

First of all, although there is some beneficial educational programs which can improve relations in family environment the overwhelming majority of television channels have negative impact on people regarding socialization within the family. A good illustration of this are some serials that not only have Meaningless and priceless content but also promote some destructive issues and perennial problems like separation. This in turn will cause serious repercussions for families and society as a whole.

Yet another compelling reason against overusing television instead of communication in family is that people have fewer positive facial expression during watching television. The researches show orienting toward their parents less while children watch television more. The same situations have been seen regarding marital relations and based on studies a big proportion of aggressive behavior is because of considerable amount of time which spouse spends on television viewing without enough attention to partner.

To sum up, considering the points discussed above, the most rational conclusion to be drawn is that watching television should be controlled in households. This is mainly because home atmosphere should be more active and by too much time spending in front of television, family members have little opportunity for talking together which leads to a distance among family members.
