

Some people believe that children should be allowed to stay at home and play until they are six or seven years old. Others believe that it is important for young children to go to school as soon as possible.

What do you think are the advantages of attending school from a young age?

Children are born proactive in the present generation, hence every parent is quite enthusiastic to make their child grow faster. It is the responsibility of the parents to send their children to school at the right age. It can be believed that sending children to school is more comfortable rather than keeping them at home. In my opinion, a child definitely gains something more if he or she is sent to school at a very young age.

Speaking globally, nowadays we have extraordinary school teachings like e-techno. Therefore, the more school age would be earlier, the more benefits children would achieve. As can be seen, competition plays a vital role in this completely competitive world. Thus, having educated at a young age, the young would have a more opportunity than the others to make beneficial experiences for their career life.

As one of the other advantages of decreasing school age, it could be mentioned that the average age of academic social would decrease. Moreover, not only are-is children's going gone to school earlier conducive to more socializing collective, but also leads to interacting with a lot of different people very easily. Many a child who does not have any siblings, so attending to school is a good chance for them to develop faster socially. Besides, they are generally more confident and independent than children who stay at home with their parents.

In conclusion, Arguably by no means does attending to school from a young age have disadvantages, but also has amazingly positive impression on children's life.
