

Tourism is an ever-growing industry.

What benefits do you think tourism brings to individuals and society?

Nowadays the tourism industry is growing in many countries. There are a number of benefits of it for individuals and society. On a large scale it offers a good alternative to some more destructive industries for generating income both ~~on~~ for the nation and private businesses ~~nationally and privately~~.

The First and ~~the~~ most important advantage of the tourism industry is that it can encompass many different areas, so it also creates jobs in many situations for people ~~s~~. Imagining it, when ~~tourism-tourists~~ comes ~~into a country~~ society, they need hotels, restaurants, car rental agencies, tour guides and other urban infrastructures for having comfort in the city. All of these need staffs as workers to aim-aid the tourists.

The Other benefit would be increasing the economic level of society and people ~~s~~ by increasing the ir incomes ~~with-by~~ constructing the marketplace for ~~propose-offering~~ the hand-made goods ~~with-which~~ could keep alive the handicraft industry of that society.

Also in many small societies, ~~the~~ tourism could help to prevent migration of the youths because of lack of jobs. They stay in their cities for helping the tourists, to achieve this; they must increase many skills such as knowledge, education level, learning second language.

The last advantage in my opinion is that the tourism industry ~~makes-helps~~ people know the culture and history of all ~~country-countries~~ and ~~make-them~~ become familiar with each other. The conflicts could decrease and peace propagates in the world.

In conclusion, the governments must help the tourism industry by developing the substructures, encouraging people of small cities and villages to propagate their crafts and their surroundings for attracting more and more tourists.
