

Studying history is a waste of time and energy.

To what extent do you agree.

Today, the science has many branches and each one discusses a subject. One of them is History which investigates the story of the ancients and teaches us useful tips.

First of all, we can learn from the events that have been happened in the past. For instance, Ariobarzanes who is also called Ariobarzanes the Brave led a last stand of the Persian army at battle of the gate against Macedonian king Alexander in the winter of 330 B.C, But he finally was defeated because of a shepherd who showed the way to the enemy. However, a-the traitor shepherd was killed by Alexander. This issue shows that we can increase our experience by reading the story of the ancestors.

Furthermore, studying helps us to be ~~familier~~ familiar with the culture of different countries and ~~kh~~ow know the origin of them, so the relationship between the nations become easier. Moreover, everybody must know the history of ~~his or her~~ their country ~~which has been born in it where they~~ were born. However, some units about history are taught to kids.

On the other hand, examining the past increases the general information which in turn brings about high self-confidence when we are commenting about the history and events that have been happened in the past.

So overall, I believe that studying history has ~~possitive~~ positive effects on people such as learning experience from ~~anectors~~ ancestors, general information and ~~playes~~ plays an important role in familiarizing the nations together.
