

Celebrities make a very good living out of media attention and have chosen to live in the public spotlight. They have no right to complain when they feel the media are intruding on their privacy. To what ~~extend~~ extent do you agree or disagree

Life of famous people is under the supervision of media that makes them ~~to~~ play a role and can't ~~not~~ enjoy their real lives. Some ~~believe~~ think media's intrusion should be accepted by celebrities, but I completely disagree with this notion.

~~Celebrity's~~ Celebrities' career ~~involves~~ necessitates ~~being them to be~~ in front of the public eyes, although that ~~doesn't~~ does not mean their right to privacy should be overlooked, but unfortunately they are manipulated by the media. ~~people~~ People are interested in the personal life of their popular ~~celebrity~~ celebrities and the media ~~tries~~ try to fulfill these desires of public to get ~~highest~~ higher viewership for their media channel so they need to intrude ing on in the lives of celebrities and extracting a lot of information, and fabricating them to satisfy the public or sometimes for collecting news and taking photos put their ~~celebrity's~~ celebrities' lives at risk. After all, they will publish absolutely fake and exaggerated news about ~~their~~ personal lives of celebrities.

Celebrities should have their emotional corner and the public should respect it them. Their career is ~~that~~ to entertain people with ~~their~~ movies, ~~or~~ music and after that they have personal lives just the same as others, they have secrets just like we do have. ~~they~~ They should decide which part of their personal lives ~~should~~ could be shared with their fans.

Finally, I strongly believe that media should respect the privacy and dignity of the celebrities, otherwise people themselves should have the moral responsibility to ignore their exaggerated and false news to help celebrities to lead a more normal life away from ~~have a very good living out of~~ media intrusion.
