

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement . Always telling the truth is the most important consideration in any relationship between people - use specific reasons and examples to support your answer .

~~As you know~~, telling the truth is the most important elements in ethics but do people observe it all the time ?

In my opinion the answer ~~of to~~ this question is " of course not " and the reason is that although people likes honesty , the situation ~~make~~-changes everything even people and their opinions . Sometimes some ~~happens happeningsto~~ cause ~~that~~ people ~~not to becould not~~ honest with each other. maybe they are afraid of telling the truth because it might ~~distroy-destroy~~ they relationships or lack of their self-confidence. some of us cover up the truth because we are not ~~courage~~-courageous to of saying something we did or things that occurred .

On the other hand, some of us think ~~with-by~~ telling the truth maybe some persons ~~become-get~~ in trouble . For instance , in your office your boss asked who has not submitted the forms ? and you know your colleague did not do that but you did not tell the truth because if you answer this question , your coworker will be fired . So in our imagination , we hide the truth to save ~~persons-others~~ . I can easily say all of these are justifications and we are afraid of telling the truth and we got used to this dark side of ethics although we know that it damages our relationships and hearts , we do it again and again . Another important point is that scientists found that the ~~liar's-liar's~~ brain is ~~more~~ slower than honest persons and telling ~~the-a~~ lie has significant effect on the brain and this is recognized by MRI . To sum it up , I know that humans are not without defects but we can try for principles of humanity and ethics and i finish my topic with a quotes of Mahatma Gandhi " Truth never damages a cause that is just."
