Nowadays media should include more good news in their publications. Do you agree or disagree with this statement.

These days, there is an undeniable reality that many of the reports that are broadcast around the world are often unpleasant news. Although we need ~~for~~ more positive news stories which brings ~~its~~ positive feelings, negative news remains an integral part of our daily life news reports because of the following points.

To begin with, although people want more decent news to be reported, it would be difficult ~~to~~ for the media to playing their significant roles such as , monitoring the authorities and reporting on the natural disasters. Given this background, if the media starts broadcasting only positive stories, people will lose valuable information on political strife and natural disasters as well.

What's more, it is accurate that negative news has harmful effects on ~~a~~ the mood of people so that they may experience more anxiety, reports like delinquencies which are reflected by the media contributed to raising people's awareness of crime prevention though. Moreover, attempts to ~~hiding~~ hide negative news by press might leads to unnecessary extreme consequences for people.

Ultimately, people must try to strike a balance between receiving pleasant and unpleasant news through the media so that this gradually creates a psychological balance in the audience. Therefore, they have to accept the fact that ~~however~~ as much as hearing positive news boosts people's spirits, in opposition, getting negative news also leads to ~~the increase~~ increasing public awareness so I do not personally agree with the statement.
