

If you are going to graduate from the university and have to choose the final course, which professor will you choose; the one whose courses you used to sign up for or the one you have never learned from before?

Nowadays, academic education has an outstanding role not only in individual progress, but also career development. Due to its paramount importance, the educational system endeavors to adopt the best decision and to present the applied curriculum. Whether the students choose the-a familiar professor or one who they have never experienced for the final course is the-a controversial question. Although choosing the new professor may have /involve/entail more challenges, I believe that it can have some advantages, which I will address in the following paragraphs.

First of all, every person has her own opinion about different issues. Anyone we meet can show us special outlook, which is completely different from others and every person can have specific effect on our life. That people prefer more to repeat their previous experiences is a psychological principle and that is because new situations are unpredictable and it is likely that it be more challenging and needs more energy to deal with it. However, new things have always a unique experience, which is not analogous to past ones. For instance, last year I wanted to choose the professor to help me in my final course. All of my friends suggested me-I to choose the professor, whom m we had an experience with and was well known. But, I decided to select the professor, whom I had had any-no course with. Although it was a little challenging at first to arrive at an agreement about my thesis, I could constantly-gradually know him and his viewpoints, which was inimitable. Had I not chosen n the new professor, I would not have-been able to get brand-new advices.

The second exquisite point to be mentioned is that every professor has special connections with other people and other organizations. One of the most important opportunities that the students have is that they can get good recommendations to apply and attend in-other universities. Moreover, if they want-wish to find a job in a professional companycapacity, they will obtain better positions if they have an endorsement from their professors and also most of the time professors introduce their students to a company to find a job. In-as a result, the more you know different professors, the more you find vocation positions.

To summerisesummarize, based on the aforementioned reasons, I believe that by starting new connections with new ones-professors we can become acquainted with new perspectives, we can extend our relationships and finally get /enjoy richer experiences.
