Using a computer every day can have more negative than positive effects on young children.

Do you agree or disagree?

Answer:

I totally agree with that using a computer every day has an negative influence on young children. Its harmful for their concentrate and can be damage their eyes.

However, lots of children use computer for gaming every day and this causes they avoid from gathers and actual activities with other children. Spending time with others is very important that computers can not provide this for them. So they become lazy and introverted person in future.

On the other side, spending time alot ~~on~~ in the virtual world stay-keeps children away from studying. Many parents are worry about their children that they don't focus on their lessons as much as it needs throughout the semester.

Although the digital age needs knowledge of using computers and equipment so children should be learnt from childhood, but dangers are very close to whom uses a lot digital gadgets. Because there are no limits to access to the internet and its not compeletely safe.

I think that's a useful function to control them do not overuse devices. Parents should teach their children to enjoy computer activities limited eventhough they are out of touch with this.
