

darya atighi

11:45 AM (42 minutes ago)

to me

Nowadays, many families have both parents working. Parents believe other family members like grandparents can take care of their children, while others think childcare centres provide the best care. Discuss both views and give your own opinion.

Nowadays most of ~~the~~ parents are too much involved with their works and need some help to take care of their children. Some people think childcare centres and grandparents can help parents to take care of their children. I would like to discuss both views and give my own opinion about this subject.

I believe that parents should ~~streak-strike~~ a balance between their work and the time that they should ~~spent-spend~~ with their children. On the other hand, some of them have lots of responsibility in work and they cannot reduce their work hours. The best idea for those parents is to entrust their children to their grandparents because grandparents are part of ~~the~~ family and they are more common with their grandchildren's desire and ~~are~~ more compassionate about them and they can spend more time with them. But in childcare centres there are more children ~~exist~~ and the teacher should have eyes on the other ones too.

However, some of ~~the~~ children ~~does~~ not have any grandparents because they are dead ~~our-or~~ they are too old to ~~care for~~ their grandchild. ~~In~~ this circumstance the only choice they have is entrust their children to childcare centres. It is not a bad idea because sometimes these places develop child creativity in different ~~things-~~ ~~aspects/areas/subjects~~. But also it has drawbacks too because maybe other children ~~bullied to~~ our child and our child ~~gets~~ depressed if this happened to them ~~in-at~~ a low age.

In conclusion, i think parents should consider some time to spend with children by ourselves to give them ~~our-their~~ love but for ~~the~~ second choice we can get help from grandparents and childcare centres.