

It is generally believed that some people are born with certain talents, for instance for sport or music, and others are not. However, it is sometimes claimed that any child can be taught to become a good sports person or musician.

Discuss both these views and give your own opinion.

In this day and age, having an effective education system is a main issue which most of the countries are dealing with. This essay will discuss ~~about~~ talented children and what training systems ~~s~~ can do for them and also for ordinary ones.

In the First place, ~~the~~-natural aptitude is the main factor that only do some people have ~~and-but also~~ must use it very carefully. For example someone who has a special ability, learns the lessons very fast and easily compared d to the others and this positive point can help ~~him-them~~ to improve fast in ~~his-their~~ or ~~her-~~ situation. However, natural talent does not guarantee the success of people alone, so the education system plays an important role in this regard. For instance, in third world countries many talented children cannot improve because they are dealing with their basic needs such as food, water and any problems that we cannot imagine in our minds. This issue reveals that both the innate talent and effective training are important together such that the shortage of ~~either one of them~~ affects the upbringing of people.

Besides, I believe that assiduity is ~~the-an~~ important factor which we cannot ignore simply. I think hard work can open the door to success, so ordinary people can progress in their life by the mentioned method. For instance, ~~z~~ some scientists had normal talent but they had a vital role in the development of the world ~~due-due~~ to their great efforts.

So overall, I believe that both innate talent and productive training are important factors which must be considered together to have geniuses in our society.