

Studying abroad or in your home country discuss both views and give your opinion.

People have different views about where ~~the a~~ student should be studying. While some argue that it would be better for students to study in their country, I would argue that it is better to study overseas.

On the one hand, studying in one's home country costs less than studying in an other country. To put it another way, If you live with your family during education, you will not pay the high cost of living. For instance, young people should rent a house or dormitory in a foreign country. Students can save a lot of money ~~in~~ while studying in their home country.

On the other hand, studying abroad has many advantages, too. living in a new country causes /helps them to stand on their own feet due to the fact they don't have relatives and friends to help them. so they gain self-confidence and young people become independent during education because they do their daily chores. if young people study in a foreign country, they will be introduced to different cultures from many countries, ~~while which helps them~~ cause to broaden horizons. The education that students gain at the university is invaluable. In spite of higher tuition fees, many young people still choose to study abroad. studying abroad has good effects on young people ~~that which~~ prepares them for social life and work.

To conclude, while studying in the home country can save money, I believe that studying abroad has many more advantages that can help them to success-succeed in the future
