

Book 7- General training 2- Writing task 2:

Some people feel that entertainers (e.g. film stars, pop musicians or sport stars) are paid too much money.

Do you agree or disagree?

Which other types of job should be highly paid?

There have been always arguments ~~argues among~~/between ordinary people about the money that special people like movie super-stars or famous athletes earn. And they believe that these "selfish creatures" are overpaid/paid more than they deserve.

It is believed in the public that there must be supervision on the money that, for example, film actors gain and the increasing rate of their wages must be taken under control. People are always asking what they are really doing. ~~they really do?~~ Do Are they heal the world or take care of the community's serious problems? Public opinion asserts on reducing their income and increasing essential career's fees like those which concern with people's health state or life facilitating industries.

Critics of this public opinion are proponents of high salaries for specialists in the fields of sports and movies. They say albeit athletes have no business with people's diseases, they entertain the people. Besides, advertising industries benefits considerably from those types of careers. They make money for rich men and just takeing their shares. Of course doctors and engineers who did not helped them to become extremely wealthier cannot take any proportion of that those money.

In my opinion, everyone must focus on their own affairs ~~wear their shoes~~. If some special jobs have has high incomes then, people try to get them and stop criticizing. In the world of massive finances everyone who helps these funds to grow could benefit from its growth. Others seem worthless like useless furniture to fund owners and have no shares. I think people must neglect these specific jobs when they want to talk about wages and they must just consider about ordinary jobs. I believe, away from those specific careers, it is worthy to upgrading the teachers' income because they buildt up the foundations of future for next generations.

To sum up, in simple words, specific careers will have specific fees and must discard other considerations ~~putted out of consider~~ when we are talking about salary whereas all other job incomes could be criticized and judged to be raised or decreased.
