

Popular events like the football world cup and other international sporting occasions are essential in easing international tensions and releasing patriotic emotions in safe way. To what extent do you agree or disagree with this option?

Nowadays, a current issue around the world is about international events, authority figures state that it is the a best way to ~~union-unite~~ all the world close together while others have different ideas.

Some advocates argue that we must have some ceremonies or occasions like soccer games and other types of competitions to gather individuals together to communicate with one another/each other and express their emotion without ~~with-out~~ argument to widespread peace around the world.

On the opposite side, many people ~~are~~ disagree with this opinion and state that international sporting occasions create ~~a~~ competition between among countries and patriotic emotions will ~~be~~ increase. People get nervous during the race and the failure /failing of their country makes them angry.

Because of that maybe they have a bad behavior with observing individuals, for example we saw lots of arguements in the stadiums. Some others believe that this occasion is for releasing ~~realizing~~ energy and it is just for fun and most of the time fans of both teams start to quarrel with each other and greatly enjoy ~~a lot from~~ this behavior, so ~~So~~, it is not an appropriate way to show emotions.

In my opinion, the benefits of this competition are more than the that defects/faults, people from all around the world with different cultures, ethnicities ethnics, religions religious and racessit racial-seat together and encourage their favorite team. It is normal in some situations that the spectators audience lose their controls and have different opinion and start to shout and argue with each other but it is an interesting part of the game and we must try to enjoy our time.

Consequently, international events can be an efficient way for releasing patriotic emotions. We must appreciate these kinds this-kind of occasions to show that we are united union and can stand beside inside one another / each other and love are-our team without any discriminations and argumente. If people have a rich culture and accept the-failure fail in some competitions.
