

Going overseas for university study is an exciting prospect for many people. But while it may offer some advantages, it is probably better to stay home because of the difficulties a student inevitably encounters living and studying in a different culture.

To what extent do you agree or disagree with this statement?

Studying abroad has ~~gained popularity increased~~ for many reasons in the last decades, ~~and so it has become was made as~~ a new trend ~~among in the~~ majority of university students. There are lots of educational benefits for studying in developed countries, nevertheless their draw~~backs~~ ~~backs~~ cannot be ~~denied deniable~~ if ~~a~~ sensible person thinks ~~out~~ wisely.

Students who try to gain ~~the~~ opportunities such as scholarships and university admission think about acquiring ~~a~~ new language and skills as well as certificates. They undoubtedly could use more advanced educational facilities in modern labs there. Furthermore, they probably have better chance of learning science with more experienced and knowledgeable professors. Furthermore, ~~the~~ importance of ~~a~~ second language should not be ignored in the way that they ~~are exposed to with a~~ foreign language constantly both at university and social places on ~~a~~ daily basis till they would leave the country.

On the other hand, there are lots of concerns that should be regarded before planning for study~~ing~~ overseas. The most important problem that might affect students is cultural shock which may lead~~s~~ to depression, homesickness and consequently causes ~~lapses failure~~ in their studies. Since In most cases ~~the~~ culture of host countries ~~is are~~ far different compare~~d~~ with their origin culture, ~~so~~ it takes so much time and effort for international students to get used to it. In addition, In their daily chores, not only ~~should~~ they should deal with several problems and events, but also have to handle lonely ~~and~~ away from their family and friends which involves a great deal of tension and stress.

In conclusion, while studying in overseas universities, especially high-ranked universities definitely brings lots of successes in both education and job~~s~~ for all the students, other aspects should be taken into consideration in order to minimize the risk of its imperfections. I truly believe that although students might encounter pressure and discomfort in other countries, it is so worthy concerning ~~to~~ its achievements and it would be an unrepeatabe ~~and~~ invaluable experience for them.
