How to work efficient in the shortest time that it is possible: 1- The competence workers has increase and there is much hold out to gain (occupy) our profession 2- The world's changes boosted 3- have more leisure time, consume lesser energy and please our life. (expeditiously, readily)

As of /from industrial revolution, some novel subjects like productivity, efficiency and competence were raised and the corresponding majors and studies ~~were~~ have emerged. Nowadays, experts have concluded that if an individual employs ~~efficiently~~ just twenty percent of their capability efficiently, they will fulfill the desired objectives of an enterprise. Therefore, although there are numerous factors in for a person's success, some of them which are more crucial. Some believe that establishment of a main goal and determination of the most integral duties to fulfill it are even positively more important than ingenuity.

First and foremost, in our contemporary era, every major and technology ~~ies~~ is are evolving more and more and the recent graduates of any scientific fields are more up-to-date and better apprehend complicated theories and recently developed software by far more readily than the older employees. Therefore, we should dedicate some time for keeping abreast of the advanced inventions and improvements of our specialty, otherwise we will lose our jobs. On the other hand, not only will we have to do our job expeditiously because of the threat of fresh employees, also we should devote time for studying constantly.

Secondly, a multitude of the labor with seniority expect to be praised and take up managerial responsibility. It is worth bearing in mind that one of the distinguishing characteristics of an effective domination is working with the most possible sufficiency and least time consumption. In other words, soaring productivity is not plausible without enjoyment of an intellectual and selective (discriminating) personality, not to mention the fact that the inevitable condition of keeping one's tenure is acclimatization to the mentioned items.

Looking at it from another standpoint, as to doing assignment with more speed and productivity, we can convert an otherwise sedentary and hectic lifestyle to a an more amazing one. I would like to stress that most people prefer to lessen their working time and have more leisure time. The point is, why we should ~~we~~ perpetuate our chores in ~~the~~ cases where (~~when~~) there is a possibility to finish them sooner.?

~~To put~~ in a nutshell, I think that it is better to acclimatize ourselves to perform achieve our affairs promptly and carefully. These two specifications have ~~inalienable~~ undeniable advantages for being successful.
