

Every country has poor people and every country has different ways of dealing with poor.

What are some of the reasons for world poverty?

What can we do to help poor.

Even in developed countries poverty exists. However, in many developing countries poverty is a major problem and the number of poor people is are increasing. It means that poverty does is not just belongs to deprived societies or communities. There are some causes in this regards which need to be taken into account ( considered) in order to help the poor.

In my opinion, the first factor that influencing the world poverty is the economic system. As this system distributes vital resources unequally among people, it creates social classes, rich and poor people, so a modern social and economic structure should be formed to address this issue, but economic development does not always mean the end of to poverty. Our government should try to make sure that it is in the interests of our society.

Another reason for world poverty is illiteracy. Many people around the world do not have access to education and cannot can-not learn to read or write. Therefore, they are precluded from well-paid employment and so cannot-not improve their living conditions, thus to provide help in this regards, all countries around the world should put their priority to get ride of literacy by providing comprehensive education for all citizens, so that everyone can have a chance to improve change-to-improving their his/her living standards via access to education.

Id addition, I think war plays a great role in world's poverty. it can destroy infrastructures and financial resources, besides causing causes-widespread unemployment. All above, raises the number of refugees who are immigrating to foreign countries, so that the receiving countries' resources should be spentd in this regards. This creates poverty for both sides.

To sum up, I can say that poverty will probably always exist. Nevertheless, countries around the world can take action to reduce it by ensuring that there is a fair distribution of wealth among people and by making sure that all people have access to education. Also, the world must put all its attempt to end the wars.
