

How we can improve disabled people's life?

These days in many countries one section of society is people who are physically or mentally disabled. In the first place, there is a possibility that they are concerned about their conditions and are askinged the government to help them.

Obviously, one of the main factors that we can show our attentions to them is financial service. The government must provide equipments and special areas for their comfort/convenience calmness. For instance, special dedicated cars and wheelchairs are play a vital roles. Elevators , ramps must be are constructed in the areas for their transportation. The urban design will help them to be familiar with the public.

Another factor which has significant improvement is allocatinged suitable jobs around others. We should cooperate incorporate/integrate them in the work place, and we ought not to let them to feel conspicuous. Not only do they achieve salary, but also they feel about being beneficial employers.

In the same way, the government should persuade them to pursue their education/studies being graduate. Not only do they gain certification, but also they learn to communicate with classmates who are in the same ages and levels.

In my opinions, these factors improve their lifestyle certainly but the attitudes of the public in society are their common problems. The government must teach the nation to accept them in a friendly way as people who are very capable and worthy.

In conclusion, maybe these people are disabled because of wars, disease and accidents sadly. They did not choose this hardly situation, so they have as much right such as others to using every services and facilities.

It will be our duty especially the governmental duty to improve disabled lifestyles. In our religious teachings, advices they have told us that the more how bountiful you are, the more God donates you more and more in our life.
