

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? Attending a live performance (for example, a play, concert, or sporting event) is more enjoyable than watching the same event on television. Use specific reasons and examples to support your opinion.

1- See the actors approximately 2- in outdoors and recreation 3- although TV Tv is more convenient

As of Contemporary epoch, TV and watching movie at home have become two of the prime recreations of a majority of people. Although these media have their own advantages like their monetary convenience and availability for massive portion of society, I prefer live performances, since I believe that their merits are outweigh watching TV at home.

First and foremost, what can be more pleasurable than watching actors or athletes in a real world and not virtually on at TV? I maintain that not only are these performances more amazing, also they it shows the competence of players, since the program is alive and they should not have-not to make mistakes. Many of TV programs have been edited for several times, the sounds, acts and even images and films are not as real as live performances. Furthermore, live performances provide suitable opportunities to meet with encounter our favorite actors, actresses and athletes closely. I would like to stress that millions of dollars every year are being spent on for seeing people's idols.

Secondly, watching live performances provides a convenient time in our leisure time for mingling with our intimate friends or our family members. With the progress of technology, professions and studying have has gotten complicated and we have faced lacking enough time to get together with our family or old friends. In other words, I think that with the advent of TV the relationships have become drifted apart and this phenomenon causes several psychological problems like depression or even brings about stress.

And last but not least, it is worth bearing in mind that sometimes TV programs can be a suitable productive alternative. There are numerous matches, concerts and theaters that we are willing to watching, but it is not feasible plausible to go there and watching alive. Furthermore, TV programs have the capability of recording programs and seeing in our idle times. Therefore, we should try to strike a balance between watching TV programs or be a spectator in live performances.

To put it in a nutshell, were I to choose between the options, I would vote in favor of live performances. I point out that it can restore our old relations and it can be a fabulous opportunity for fans to watch their role models.
