Planting trees is very important for environment. Some people say trees should be planted in the vacant areas of cities and towns, while other says housing facilities should be built instead.

Do you agree or disagree?

Not only is planting trees very essential for our environment, but also it should be considered an important matter for our next generation. That is to say, it is incumbent on governments to encourage people to plant trees in their own private areas as well as in the vacant areas of the cities and towns where the government is responsible, whereas some say that providing facilities is more important than ~~have~~ having a clean environment.

The first and foremost issue is that by planting trees, we prevent soil erosion ~~and it leads~~ leading to both reduc~~ing~~e the effect of it and hav~~ing~~e a clean environment that is nowadays ~~it is~~ a potentially fatal issue. In other words, because of the lack of green space, people are more exposed to various diseases, such as heart ~~hurt~~ attack and respiratory diseases. Finally, we should prevent our environment from urban sprawl/ sprawling. Simply put, the more we build different either buildings or accommodations, the more we destroy our natural environment.

On the other hand, people tend to live in areas where they have access to many/ much more facilities. For example, hospitals, schools, highways and much more besides. In spite of the fact that most of them know about the disadvantages of living areas without green resources, they prefer to spend their life comfortably ~~on welfare~~ in terms of urban facilities.

In conclusion, that living in lush green areas is an advantage is indisputable pattern. To put it simply, we should make every effort to preserve these natural resources. Moreover, we cannot damage them, just because of providing ~~making~~ facilities for ourselves and ignoring/ denying our children´s future.
