introduction:

the rising trend of crime/increasing amount of crime in our society is a major problem, which is depleting many of our tax income. a huge investment rooted in tax and other government income is spent on building courts, jails and salaries of judges. Therefore it is must that we contain this challenge.

according to an investigation (which is-was) conducted by scientists, the likelihood of happening crime is increased when the triangle of fraud is formed. three sides of it are opportunity, incentive and ability . consider a car which has open doors and abandoned, there is an opportunity in here and imagine a guy passing , is suffering from shortage of money and is under pressure to provide for of his family ~~for breadwinning;~~ this individual guy has enough incentive. now consider that he this guy can steal the car and make money out of it! the triangle is complete. different organizations could help in crime prevention, in-on one hand, good economy and welfare can reduce the required incentive for petty crimes and on the other hand education and training can help of finding other ways in tough conditions , physiologists can help of reducing pressure on people guys and resolve tough conditions in life. Moreover, this is everyone's responsibility to reduce the opportunity of crime by paying attention to this issue and behaving in correct manner even at in work or in daily life.

conclusion:

not only should we study these crimes which range are ranged from minor infractions/misdemeanors to felonies, we should also not only must be studied and find good solutions case by case for breaking the sides of the triangle forever for ever, moreover, we need to but also must be considered ways to prevent for preventing in other cases. in spite of increasing population , i hope we have more low-law-abiding citizens by paying attention to what was mentioned in the above context.
