

More and more city workers are deciding to live in the country and travel to work every day. The result is increased traffic congestion and damage to environment. What measures do you think could be taken to encourage people

Not to travel such long distances to work?

In the present time, workplace location is the most momentous factor in life, even when it is far from one's home, in the long time individuals face ~~with~~-exhaustion and aging. This endless commuting process lead~~sing to~~ several major problems and errors for instance, increased traffic congestion, damage to the environment, increased accident crashes and also increment in mortality rates.

~~The~~ first and foremost, business owners can set up a distant office in the a remote area or suburbs owing to staffs who lives far from the central office. This effective approach can be useful because traffic congestion during rush hour drops and leads to many positive results such as healthy weather conditions, Safe and secure road conditions, highly managed transport systems and low road mortality rates.

In addition, companies can hire private buses for staffs who commute every day, this opinion ~~led~~ leads to saving more fossil fuel and energy, ~~in place of instead~~ the government might invests ~~into~~ construction projects, rebuild city backbones and infrastructures, and also optimize poor urban systems.

Furthermore, officials can financially support with low- rate loans for entrepreneurs who construct particular facility flat inside the city ~~nearby Corporation department the head office~~, even if the transition procedure is not possible and the business filed is indispensable for the city.

To sum up, ~~in terms of having in order to have a~~ productive and dynamic country, ~~drastic sufficient~~ collaboration between all sides is required and essential.