

some experts believe that it is better for children to begin learning a foreign language at primary school rather than secondary school.

do the advantages of this outweigh the disadvantages?

give reasons for your answer and include any relevant examples from your own experience

With the rising trend of social media, it is a must to know popular languages. Learning a foreign language at an early age has many benefits, however, it may have some disadvantages. I will explain the learning process and the good base it can create make for future and explain the disadvantages.

Before we delve into this issue, we have to know that learning takes place at synaptic junctions by connecting neurons. When a brain learns something new, neurons are formed and wired, this formation can leverage the related learning in future. In primary school children are younger and can learn faster, their learning makes-creates a good base of formed neurons for future by which they can learn many things in future easier and faster because the brain first looks for previous knowledge in facing with-new learning-experience/matters. Besides learning a new language, they understand the existence of different cultures which are is inhibited in teaching materials. They get to know different topics by reading new language topics and small essays, for example I became familiar with many general topics at an early age that helped understanding of my surroundings better.

In spite of the good benefits, learning in primary school may have some disadvantages. They may confuse the rules of the new language with their native one. As an example, the main problem for me was grammar which i had many difficulties in understanding tenses and using them in my early ages. Moreover, teaching to small children needs more skills by teachers.

In conclusion, not only are the benefits of learning a new language more than its deficiencies, but also it paves the way makes a good base for future. If we can provide skillful teachers, the benefits are undeniable /legion.
