

Bringing in foreign workers to fill positions that domestic workers are unwilling to do can cause problems in the local community and should therefore be stopped.

to what extent do you agree with this?

Domestic laborers are usually reluctant to do go insignificant/menial work; therefore, those are occupied by foreigners, hence unemployment problems in such countries. For this reason, some believe that it should be restricted.

Although finding a job is important for each person, but some people keep away from doing some kinds of work, especially both physical and difficult work with low/fewer income. Without that doubt, those jobs are given to get with strangers who leave their own country for finding a job. I opine they are obliged to accept this condition, because most of them need it for their livings and it is their immigration's reason.

On the other hand, it may cause to serious problems and it also has negative side effects. For instance, it leads youth to unemployment. In other words, if had local individuals did done those jobs, unemployment would have decreased. As a result, the crime rate will increase. Another flipside is related to foreign people's inhabitancy place of residence. Simply put, not only does it lead to urban sprawl, but also living on the countryside will increase as well as crime.

In a nutshell, from my point of view, it is incumbent upon administrations to pave the way for employing their own residents in wide varieties of jobs either whether low or high levels. Only when we could either employ in or benefit from other workers, would they have a specific expertise. On the other hand, working in other countries, aliens are inevitable. Besides, we should pay attention that the status quo is not deteriorated/ to the current condition which does not become worse/go to the worse.