

Music is played in every society and culture in the world today.

Some people think that music brings only benefits to individuals and societies.

Others, however, think that music can have a negative influence on both.

Discuss both these views and give your own opinion.

The question of whether music has only beneficial effects on human's life or it can also be harmful is an old-age debate accompanying human in different eras. I myself believe that, music just the same as any other sophisticated art, is a double-edged weapon which could ~~has~~ have its own pros and cons. In this essay I will explore both edges.

On the one hand, some people feel that this cheaply pleasant art is one of the most favorable entertainments in the world, which could ease the tension and boost the mood. ~~In~~ from their point of view, music is deeply rooted in cultures. Different types of traditional music can demonstrate any nation's belief and history. Besides, this art evokes memories, and reminds people of different events in their lives, which could be helpful for their consciousness. Furthermore, music helps some students ~~on~~ with better concentration during their study.

On the other hand, some other people argue that, this art can also be detrimental for the human body. For example, many musicians begin to go deaf because of loud noise of their musical instrument, it seems that they start music to solace themselves, but the more they drown in the music ocean, the more they lose their mind and neglect the harms that they are about to experience. Furthermore, some of today's song lyrics contain inappropriate contents, which are not suitable for families. In addition, some songs remind people of their bad memories, hence bad feelings and depression.

In conclusion, although music is playing a substantial role in human's life, people must pay attention to how they use it properly. Otherwise, they would face many unpleasant consequences instead of calmness.
