Subject: “Modern society needs s specialistss in certain fieldss , but not in others. Some people therefore think that government should pay university fees for students who study subjects should not received government funding . What the advantages of such an educational policy outweigh the disadvantages? “

During the last decade ~~which-where~~ most ~~of~~ countries are growing and developing at a fast rate , they have to support and care for those who are professionals and specialistss in specific areas. However, there are some ~~ideas-people~~ against this theory ~~which-who~~ have different ideas.

If the government allocatess sufficient budget to the specialistss and supportss them with appropriate facility, They can build up the-society and this is going to be useful for all people. Furthermore, there are number of talented people and ~~geniuses-people~~ who suffer from lack of money ~~which-who~~ government does not support ~~them~~, they will be disappointed and ~~immigrant-immigrate~~ to other developed countries for instance the majority of successful graduatedd students in Iran run away in order to have better future and use their special skillss in other countries. This is the worst situation for countries who allocate money to students during their educational time and at the end society cannot use the result of this investment. the last point to support this idea is that ~~for-the~~ government does not need a huge fund to this program but the return of investment is so brilliant and each person can make enormous profit to their economy.

On the other hand , there are opposed viewss that ~~are-believed~~ it is not fair to distribute national fund to specific groups and it should be divided equally among people because , if other partss of the system such as back up team , transportation, security ~~and-etc.-does~~ not work well the specialistss could not ~~success-succeed~~ in projects.

In my opinion , each country ~~have-has~~ to care for and support their young and professionals talented people and if the infrastructure of the country doesn't cover the needs and demand ~~of-for~~ specialistss , that society ~~encounters-to~~ terrible/serious problems.
